Dear MCT families,

We have been monitoring this unprecedented and rapidly-changing situation around the Coronavirus and following recommendations from health professionals and local, state and federal officials. The advice coming from all levels of health professionals is to practice “social distancing” and avoid large crowds, which can be very difficult to accomplish in a theatre environment.

In light of that, it is with heavy hearts that we are cancelling next week’s spring day camp of Beauty Lou and The Country Beast, scheduled for March 16-20. Keeping students and their families safe is always a top priority for MCT, and we want you to know this decision was not made lightly.

You are entitled to a refund for the tuition and for tickets already purchased for the Friday, March 20 performances. The MCT Box Office staff will process those transactions for you efficiently and as swiftly as possible. You may call 728-PLAY (7529) or stop in at the box office between 9am-5pm, beginning Monday, March 16th, as the box office will be closed over the weekend. For any family that is able and willing to consider donating back the price of the registration and/or tickets in lieu of a refund, however, MCT would gratefully accept that donation. Of course, a tax-deductible receipt would be issued in whatever amount were to be donated back to MCT.

As we navigate this challenge together, we want to convey how much we value all the students who enter our doors and are grateful for the trust you place in MCT to care for your children. We hope to see you back here soon and ask that you visit www.MCTinc.org for further updates and announcements regarding upcoming events and productions.
